

NEWS OF A NEW CONTINENT

A LAND OF 8,000,000 SQUARE MILES IN THE ANTARCTIC CIRCLE.

Borchgrevink, the Norwegian Explorer, Tells the Geographic in London of His Visit to the South Pole, the Last Part of the Expedition, the Landing, the Discovery of the Continent, and the Discovery of the South Pole.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.
LONDON, Aug. 3.—Even those who find geography a dry and dull subject would be aroused to enthusiasm by some of the dramatic tales of exploration recounted at the sessions of the International Congress held here this week.

BULLETS FOR SMALL BOYS.

MISS FLAGLER'S ACT REPEATED AT THE JAPANESE LEGATION.

Four Shots Fired at Boys Who Were Said to Be Stealing Fruit, but None of Them Took Effect—Indignation of the Colored People Over the Killing of the Colored Boy by Miss Flagler—The Young Woman Severely Criticized for the Recklessness with Which She Handled the Pistol, and the Coroner's Verdict for the Case—Talk of an Indignation Meeting—Miss Flagler Leaves Washington.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Shooting at small boys for stealing half-pine fruit threatens to become epidemic in Washington. Today residents in the vicinity of the Japanese Legation were startled by the report that Oscar Reid, a white boy, was shot while pilfering some green fruit in the yard attached to the Japanese Legation in N. street, between Thirtieth and Thirty-first streets.

The recollection of yesterday's tragedy, in which the death of a young Japanese boy was caused by a bullet fired from the Japanese Legation, is still in the mind of the people, hence it was not difficult to create a sensation over the alleged shooting to-day.

When a reporter called at the Japanese Legation to-day to obtain a young Japanese boy, who was said to be the boy who was shot, he was told that the boy was not there, and that he was not the boy who was shot.

The boy who was shot was said to be the boy who was shot. The boy who was shot was said to be the boy who was shot. The boy who was shot was said to be the boy who was shot.

BRIDGE CARS STOPPED.

You'll Have to Walk or Take the Ferry to Get to Brooklyn Today.

The stoppage of bridge trains to-day will inconvenience upward of 75,000 persons, that being the average number of people who patronize the bridge cars on Sunday. As many more who walk over the promenade will have to take the ferries if they want to get from one city to the other or else travel over the north roadway, which will be open to pedestrians.

These last several thousand come from the tenement districts. On Sundays they have been in the habit of strolling along the entire day on the bridge. Many of them take their lunch with them and make the bridge a picnic ground. It costs nothing, and the air is as pure and healthy as Manhattan Beach could provide.

When the report of the alleged killing was started some one called at the Reid house and imparted the untrue information to the boy's mother. The shock was so great that the mother was completely unnerved.

MASSACRE OF CHRISTIANS.

CHINESE FANATICS KILL FIVE ENGLISH WOMEN.

Miss Mabel Hartford, an American Woman, Wounded—The Victims Terribly Mutilated Before They Were Slain—All Belonged to the Missions at Kucheng in the Interior of the Empire—In Shanghai the American and British Ministers in Peking Are Blamed for the Outbreak.

LOHNSON, Aug. 3.—A despatch from Shanghai says the Express of that city reports to-day a massacre of Christians at Kucheng. Among those killed were five English women.

The despatch declares that the Chinese officials connived at, if they did not instigate, the attack on the Christians. The revival of outrages is attributed to the apathy of the British and American governments, and to the increasing anti-foreign feeling that is displayed.

When the report of the alleged killing was started some one called at the Reid house and imparted the untrue information to the boy's mother. The shock was so great that the mother was completely unnerved.

KILLED BY BANDITS.

They Threw Up Their Hands at a Command, and With Winchester in Hand.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Aug. 3.—Zip Wyatt and Charley Black, outlaws, were overtaken on Thursday evening by two farmers named Nicholson and Parker eighteen miles west of Okene, in Blaine county. Nicholson and Parker appear to have been the outlaws, who were asleep, and ordered them to throw up their hands.

Their hands went up promptly, but each pair of hands held a Winchester rifle, and in an instant Nicholson was killed and the bandits were in full flight toward the Glass Mountains. Parker claims to have wounded Black in the face and breast, and says that for several miles Black led a trail of blood. One hundred men are now in pursuit.

POLICE BOARD IS SPLIT.

TROUBLE CAUSED BY GRANT'S RE-MARKS AT EAKINS' TRIAL.

The Reform Board Spent Most of Yesterday Issuing Statements About the Late Grant's Remarks at the Eakins Trial, and the Board is Now Split.

The Reform Board of Police Commissioners fell out yesterday. The cause of the break was Col. Grant's remark at the Eakins trial on Friday afternoon, when he said that the trial was a farce.

COL. GRANT'S REMARK AT THE TRIAL ON FRIDAY AFTERNOON WAS THE CAUSE OF NO END OF TALK AROUND POLICE HEADQUARTERS YESTERDAY MORNING.

Col. Grant's remark at the trial on Friday afternoon was the cause of no end of talk around Police Headquarters yesterday morning, and while the men of the old regime hailed the Colonel as a new-found Moses, the friends of the Reform Board administration thought it remarkable that the Commission had not more boldly criticized the act of his colleagues, and his own formal act as a Commissioner, in bringing the accused Capt. Eakins to trial.
